How to Create Drawings in AutoCAD?

Step 1: When you open AutoCAD for the first time, it asks you to save the drawings you are working on and changes some default settings, in order to prepare for future drawing projects. When you click OK, your AutoCAD opens with a blank canvas to start designing. Step 2: Your screen will look like this. The first window of the program is the Navigation Pane. From this, you can set the preferences of your project. At the top of the navigation pane, you will see the File pull-down menu. By default, this is set to All Files, but you can customize this to something else. Step 3: You can drag and drop components into your drawing project, just like in the traditional program. Click on the red component in your drawing and drag it to your drawing. Step 4: You will notice that you can also edit text and shape properties in a ‘magic’ pane which opens to the right of your drawing. Click on the red Text box and edit the text. You can also change the font, size, and many other options. Step 5: It is also possible to create and edit dimensions. Click on the ‘+’ on the dimension line to create a new dimension. Click again to extend the dimension to its full length. Step 6: You can also set up the right-hand edge of your drawing, where the title bar will appear. Click on the Top menu and select Right Edge. This will create a red line on your drawing at the exact right
