This route extension is the latest in a growing series of add-on routes for Train Simulator. Take on a challenging job on this new route and get your first taste of the excitement of operating a train on such a busy route. Caltrain's F40PH-2CAT is now used on this route, and the Nippon Sharyo was the last gallery car used on the Berkeley branch of the route. As Caltrain strives to expand rail service in and out of San Jose and Silicon Valley, Caltrain is using the latest railcars on this route, which is running in parallel with the new F40PH-2CAT route. These cars and equipment are actually more suited to other routes, but since Caltrain created this newer route in tandem with the existing San Francisco to San Jose route, they are now using all of this new gear on this route extension as well. New scenery has been added for the route, and the route has also been enhanced in a number of ways, including: New stations: Gilroy, Tamien and Capitol New high-speed track New, large freight yards New passenger platform at San Jose Diridon Station Improved visual quality Improved dispatching Additional improvements for realistic rail operations This route extension includes 15 scenarios and multiple route variants: [F40PHCC] First Train From Gilroy [F40PHCC] Gilroy Return Run [GP38] San Francisco Switching [GP38]Hollister Local Part 1 [GP38]Hollister Local Part 2 [GP38] Switching It Up [F40PH] Tamien Shuffle [RailFan] Gilroy [RailFan] Blossom Hill [RailFan] Tamien [F40PH-2CAT]E66/E66F [GP38-2]E34 [F40PH-2CAT (Light)]A34 [F40PH-2CAT (Mixed)]C30 [F40PH-2CAT (Bi-Level)]C36 [F40PH-2CAT (Light)]A34 [F40PH-2CAT (Mixed)]C30 [F40PH-2CAT (Bi-Level)]C36 More scenarios are available on Steam Workshop online and in-game. Train Simulator's Steam Workshop scenarios are free and easy to download, adding many more hours of

What's new:

Gun Lobby; It's Them Against Us While the gun lobby's continued push for senseless legislation and shrill political posturing threatens to drag the country down an unhinged moral abyss, one common sense solution would actually make them redundant. For them to thrive, middle America has to fail. It would not be a grass-roots job. It would involve no grassroots energy or citizen lobbying. It would require the gun industry to play along, for both personal and political gain, with the dictates of the same self-seeking monied interests that ultimately control the industry. It would have to include the National Rifle Association and its allies. They have declared in their official corporate charter that it is a "nonprofit" corporation whose purpose is to "promote the general welfare of its members, who are a working men and women having common interests in all lawful sports and businesses and in the purchase, sale and use of firearms." Like any other corporation, NRA benefits the bottom line of its members and its stockholders, and the board of directors and its officers are legally responsible to act in their best interest. Isn't that what we expect from members of the board of directors of our government-sponsored corporations? The NRA's board of directors are shareholders in a corporation that is lobbying for gun control at the federal level and for state and local legislation aimed at drastically reduced gun availability. The reasons are obvious. The NRA's readership and political power is greatest in those states and political subdivisions most supportive of gun ownership. Likewise, the NRA's political clout is greatest and most effective when gun business is booming. That's because gun profits are most easily made where business is brisk. The billions upon millions of gun owners in the United States are not likely to sell much of their gear to their neighbors. And to the extent that the owners of guns and ammunition congregate in large cities in pursuit of their recreation, the NRA's market is limited. So, then, we have a gun manufacturers' lobbying group, with a board of directors that are officers and directors of the corporations they are supposed to be representing, giving financially motivated support to politicians in Washington who spend their time putting gun licenses to undocumented aliens and universal background checks for private transfers between individuals into law. The political shenanigans to get universal background checks for every sale of a gun or ammunition is an old story in Washington, having its

All of the game's music is composed by Mothense, and all vocal and incidental songs were performed by his vocal group The ZeeZ. He's also a virtual character in the game. APICO Original is a simulation game where you can play as the "BeeOrs", which is a short name for the main character's nickname, APICO, which is a portmanteau of the words "APICOMAPIPOSITORY OF BEES". The game begins in the game's Beginning, where you can pick a bee-type you like to start off with, join a bee colony, or something else. Set in a Universe in which all life is based on bees, the game opens with a strong introduction of the excellent graphics and music that make APICO such a rewarding and unique gameplay experience. The game is of a casual nature and is centered around the player's experience in beekeeping and honey harvesting as he works to create his own apiary. As the game progresses, the player will spend his time growing a colony of bees, engaging with the bee world, and harvesting the resources of the land for his own personal benefit. As the player collects resources, he will learn the ins and outs of beekeeping and honey production, eventually bee training and breeding to produce more bee-types. As you play you will meet the exceptional APICO-villains who try to destroy or claim the resources the player enjoys and protects. The player will meet all sorts of bee-types in their quest to be happy and survive in the bee world. New Features: APICO Original will have only 4 save slots for a save and quit. APICO Original will have a built-in tutorial for beginners. APICO Original will make use of the GamePad features. APICO Original will keep track of your time playing which can be accessed in the Save Selector. APICO Original will have the Travel mode so that you can revisit places and bee-types you have already travelled to. New mini-game - Harvest. New mini-game - Honey Mine. New mini-game - Bee Riddle.
