Apple and App Store Connect with the same code Sign in with Apple and App Store Connect with the same code I have an iPhone application that needs to sign in with Apple and App Store Connect with the same code. Also if after signing in you go back to Sign in with apple in iOS you remain logged in to both with the same code. I can't seem to find any information on how to get this done. A: You can't. To use your existing code to sign in to your users Apple ID, you simply create a new app and your users enter their Apple ID and password in your app's login screen. However, please be aware that it is highly recommended that you create new app IDs and certificates for each new app, and re-list your app. The anti-EU campaign's relentless focus on Britain's immigration problem has allowed Brexiters on the continent of Europe to elbow aside Remainers on immigration issues. It sounds like the opposite of the sort of "special status" promised by Brexit campaigners, but it still fits the bill. About 6 per cent of EU citizens already work in Britain, and the group is growing at more than 3 per cent a year — more than a third faster than the UK population as a whole. The word "refugee" is no longer reserved for the displacement of people as a result of armed conflict or political persecution. It is used instead to describe the movement of employees as a result of a rising birth rate and falling rates of emigration. In France, where a far-right presidential candidate has taken a big lead in the polls, the presence of that relative sojourner in your neighbourhood has caused friction. Opinion polls show that about one in three French people agree that immigrants should not work in certain high-occupation-demand jobs in their areas. In essence, it's a nationwide invitation for European citizens to relocate if jobs or schools are close enough. With about 820
