Version History:- 3.1.4.0- 3.1.3.0- 3.1.2.0- 3.1.1.0- 3.1.0.0- 3.0.3.0- 3.0.2.0- 3.0.1.0" However, Buildrail Games version 3.0.1.0 was meant for version 2.0.1.0 and version 3.0.0.0 for 3.0.0.1. Interesting. Can you confirm this? It's quite possible I downloaded the wrong game version! BTW, I can confirm I have downloaded the correct game version. -- "Read how much of what people do is magic; then see if you can do what they do. Well i can confirm that the first game is ok for any OS 5.0 on 7.0 or later (I know that BB does a good job on software updating, but hey... that is what its for) But if i can confirm the game will not be runnable on 6.0 as well as i think it would not even work in 5.0... - There was a problem with the game engine and now Buildrail Games is working on getting the fix released. Check this thread if you need the fix: - There was a problem with the game engine and now Buildrail Games

What's new in Wild West Steam Loco:

The Wild West Steam Loco, also known as the Ohio Southern Wild West, is an American steam locomotive that operated from 1985 to 2000 in the American Midwest. Initially the sole operation of Steam Railway and Miniback No. 2, both were sold to a scrapyard. The locomotive was one of a few steam locomotives to pass into private hands in the United States, and the only survivor remaining. The locomotive was put into service again in 2006 and now runs on the Mad River Valley Railroad and the Minnesota North Shore & Southern Railroad History

The Wild West Steam Loco was built in Graham, Ohio, and gained its name from its appearance. It was created as a novelty design, meant to promote tourism in the Midwest during the World's Fair in Ohio. The locomotive was originally built for the Ohio Southern Railroad and was purchased at the end of 1984. Steam Railway and Miniback No. 2 were sold to Al W. Slege for $50,000 with the condition that it be the sole locomotive operated by the Ohio Southern Railway. He renamed it the Kentucky King and placed it on display during the 18th World's Fair, serving as the only locomotive to actually run the entire fair. Aldie H. Slege died on November 7, 1985, and the locomotive was purchased by a Canadian scrap dealer. Steam Railway and Miniback No.2 were sold soon after for $5,000 to a depot agent near Three Rivers, Michigan, of the Cornish Railroad. This locomotive was a Delaware and Hudson E2 class 4-6-2. The Wild West Steam Loco then came to the Fitchburg Railroad, where it was used as a source of motive power to haul coal to various power plants. The Fitchburg Railroad also noted interest in selling the locomotive to a museum, but was sold to E.B. "Ted" Bruno in 2000 for $100. The locomotive was used to haul loads of coal until 2000. The locomotive was bought by William Brown of Northern Diamond State Steel in Martinsburg, West Virginia in November 2000. In 2004 he sold it to the Minnesota North Shore & Southern Railroad as the locomotive mascot for a passenger excursion train. It was planned to be the sole locomotive operated by the MNS&S. The MNS&S leased a former railway line from Martinsburg, West Virginia to Washburn, Wisconsin to use as their main line.
