an object on an imaging element such as a CCD sensor and a CMOS sensor. In particular, the present invention relates to an imaging lens suitable for mounting in a relatively small camera such as a camera to be built in a portable device including a mobile telephone, a smartphone, a portable game machine, a portable information terminal, and a digital camera, a camera with a liquid-crystal display, a surveillance camera, and a car-mounted camera, in addition to a camera such as a digital still camera, a game camera, a car camera, and a network camera. In these years, in place of the conventional camera using a silver halide film, a digital camera capable of processing an optical image into an electrical signal and outputting the signal as a image has been popularized. The market of the digital camera has been rapidly expanding, and the demand for the higher function and smaller size has been increasing. Further, in these years, it is possible to readily perform printing as well as processing images, and one who uses a digital camera does not need to carry around a film cartridge containing a silver halide film. Further, the miniaturization of a sensor such as a CCD sensor and a CMOS sensor allows the shooting of high-definition images at a high frame rate even in a small-size camera. In addition, the prevalence of wireless
