Instantranslate Free

Instantranslate is an Electron-based application that provides you with a quick and easy way to translate text as soon as it is copied to the clipboard. It lacks advanced features at present, but it is easy to use and incredibly convenient. Just copy text to the clipboard so get the translation Once the application has been launched, you will see a small window on your desktop where the translated text will be displayed. When you send something to the clipboard, it is usually processed in no more than a couple of seconds. Of course, you first need to open the program's settings and select the language to which text should be translated. The font size is also customizable, and the application can ignore line breaks. Minimalistic desktop translator that isn't exactly packed with features Instantranslate's UI design is very simplistic, as there are only a couple of buttons to be found - one for starting or pausing the service and one for accessing the settings. No alternative color themes are available, which may be an issue for some users. Other than what we have already mentioned, the application does not come with any noteworthy features. Most importantly, texts you have translated in the past are not saved, which can be problematic if you accidentally copy something else to the clipboard. Convenient translator that is still in the early stages of development It is worth keeping in mind that Instantranslate is an ongoing project, and this is an early release that will likely be improved in the future. It can still prove very helpful even in its current state, however, as it makes it remarkably easy to translate text straight from your desktop. Instapaper is an app that offers to save content from the web into readable text files so you can read them later. This can be done with a range of web pages, including articles, images, videos and social feeds. What it does The developer says the app saves the articles in HTML format, which allows you to use text-to-speech functions and other utilities to read the files. It can be opened from its own icon in the system tray, and it can be dragged-and-dropped on your desktop so you can easily send the pages to Instapaper. Why you need it If you don't have time to read long articles online, or you simply want to store text for later, then Instapaper is an app that can b7e8fdf5c8
