Collect them all and win the game! Thanks! This game have a great potential for the development of the touch interface. And it's not just that! I'm very positive about the mobile platform development, because games with high processing requirements are the future of the touch interface. In fact, I've published my first game on the mobile platform, a very ambitious game with more then 400 objects: "The Black Bird Of Dreams" Thanks to the lovely audience for the rate, it is great to know that I'm starting to be valued with the touch interface, I'm very encouraged for the new games I make. I think some more interesting games are waiting to be released. I'm not only making parodies and I'm into more action games and adventures. So when I have some spare time I'm gonna develop some of these potential games that are waiting in my mind. I'm looking forward to new concepts that I could develop with the touch interface. I'm also looking forward to be challenged by more skills and, maybe, better graphics, of course. Hello there, I'm working as an indie developer, my main focus is to support my family financially. And I'm doing very well actually, even though I'm only developing indie games. I'm not really sure why I'm doing this, I always wanted to do it, but I wasn't sure if I can be bothered. But after seeing the great player interaction on the game I created, it really made me think. I'm glad I tried the touch interface. I can only say that I'm very glad I changed my mind, because now I'm really happy with how everything went. It's hard work and I know it, but it's a lot of fun too. I haven't really made any games before, I played a bit of Tapa Quest, but I'm not really good at games like that. I prefer platform games and stuff like that, with some racing and action thrown in. If you're a developer and you think that I could be a good fit for you, feel free to contact me, I'm more than happy to talk about it
