
including the registration of the shear thickening of a mixture of silica nanoparticles and polymer melts: focusing on the mechanism. The shear thickening of mixtures of particles and melts has attracted much attention in recent years, as nanoparticles are commonly used in materials. Despite intensive efforts, it is still not clear how the shear thickening mechanism works. On the basis of the simulation study on binary mixtures of spheroidal silica particles and polystyrene melts, we find that the shear thickening behavior can be divided into two different stages, i.e. the strong shear thickening stage and the weak shear thickening stage. In the strong shear thickening stage, the shear thickening behavior is closely related to the glass transition temperature of the system, while the shear thickening is regulated by the interaction between the particles and the polymers, such as the clustering of the particles and the distribution of the polymers. In the weak shear thickening stage, the shear thickening behavior is controlled by the polymers, not the particles, because the relaxation time of the polymers is smaller than the shear rate of the system. We also try to understand the shear thickening behavior in the context of the recently proposed thermodynamic argument. WKBH WKBH is a radio station licensed to

Columbus, Ohio. The station broadcasts a Religious format. The station was first owned by Cox Radio, and has been since its purchase by Cumulus Media in 2014. WKBH is owned by Cumulus Media, through licensee Cumulus Licensing LLC. The radio station shares studios with sister AM station WNIN in Delaware, Ohio. WKBH broadcasts with the ERP J-UP-CD digital signal. History WKBH signed on in 1953 as WCGG, broadcasting at 1290 kHz, with 1,000-watt power. The station was owned by the Central Ohio Broadcasting Company, with the president being Wilbur Gragg. In the 1960s and 1970s, the station was a Top 40 outlet with the slogan "Hit of the Land" and featured DJ's like Ron Summers and Tom Cecech. In the early 1980s, the station was the only Top 40 station in Columbus, and had "The Big 80" and "The Real
