Austin White Mfc Mega

after the show we will be at the austin music awards where we will all get dinner. the awards will take place at 18th street commons and they will be right after a foo fighters show. if we have time after that it will be the comedy show that we are playing right now in the hall in the mohawk. so we will be there until midnight. we will see you there! the austin white mfc will be taking the stage at the austin music awards on march 13th at the mohawk. if you want to go, please check out the show dates and purchase tickets here: www.ticketweb.com/austin-white-mfc-mega/ well in my assessment, of course, the number of people in oakland is smaller than in the marches we had in austin but we saw that in the eyes of the police the demonstrators seemed endless. it is the people. it is the people they think they are containing but they are not. it is important to create art to share those experiences of resistance. we had every right to get up in the morning after only a few hours of sleep, but we were also given every opportunity to go to sleep immediately. saul goodrich at the austin reade institute teaches a course this fall called critical reading, and sees the book as part of a movement to make the art of reading central in our society. "i am not an expert on the particulars of the austin white lime company, but i do know that austin is not seen, nor advertised, as an easy place to do business," he writes me. "i am interested to see what happens in local (and state) politics, as a result of people realizing that this is a place where the economy is not driven by the success of a few but the interest and financial health of the many. one can only hope that their vision wins out."
