It's great that the online crack crashes on startup, while the offline cpy crack works fine... Damn, the old 3dm crack was actually able to run and so ... Or maybe not, though. Maybe I just don't know how 3dm crack works. It supposedly uses the same function as the cpy (Crackspy) crack, which is that it uses Crackspy.exe as the startup file code and checks its copy each time it starts up for code not yet running (using Crackspy.lua) in the startup file. After each startup, you need to add another line to the startup file with the startup file code, and so on until an executable is created.
