BareMinerals has some of the best foundations we've ever used and the bareMinerals Full-Cover Foundation is a step up in both beauty and function. It's the ideal product for when you need to go from a heavy-duty sunblock to a light dab in an instant. We particularly like the mattifying properties of this formula, so it can really help prevent any touchups, but it's still nice and sheer, which makes blending easy. It won't make your foundation look cakey or thick; instead it gives you the perfect amount of coverage while still feeling light on the skin. Love that. One of the most surprising concealers to come out of the drugstore market in the last few years, NYX's Mega Wear concealer is nothing short of revolutionary. This staple-like product combines a full-coverage concealer and a full-coverage foundation all in one. It comes in 11 cream shades that can be worn alone or under makeup. We were surprised to find out that this concealer isn't as sheer as we thought it would be, while not looking heavily cakey. This anti-aging device designed to help you achieve a sunless tan is marketed as a "compact anti-aging device that offers a quick self tan that lasts anywhere from 7 - 14 days" and a "beauty enhancer that leaves skin looking smoother, firmer, healthier-looking and fuller." Yup, seriously. And, according to a skin care review published by the site, "it's amazing. It is just an excellent finish that lasts 7 days and really leaves skin with a smooth finish. In the mornings, it leaves skin really soft and my girlfriend said that it also made her skin look really alive." Oh, and for the record, our skin care advice applies to everyone, no matter what you are trying to achieve.

Faceshop 3.5 Full Version 18

Over the years we've noticed that concealers with a creamy consistency perform better as a preventative treatment rather than a cure. They're also less likely to transfer to the skin, and they create a smoother, more even appearance. When you're looking for a concealer with a creamy consistency, we suggest wearing it before applying your foundation and concealing any redness or discoloration. The Richly Pigmented Foundation Concealer is a full-coverage concealer that comes in a tube, but it feels and looks like a cream. The coverage is decent, and we liked the easy-to-use applicator, which applies it on the "go," leaving no redness or streaks. Next up, we have the powder concealer. A full-coverage powder is a great every-day concealer that will keep you looking fresh and glowing. If you have oily skin, using a powder concealer will help the foundation stay on a little longer and can help keep your foundation from melting into your pores. The consistency is slightly thicker than a cream and feels a bit drier. It doesn't smear, and it's long wearing. The MUFÉ HD Pro Concealer is ideal for everyday use and comes in 12 shades. It's great for oily or combo skin and comes with a mirror, an angle brush and a sponge applicator. What Sephora lacks in accessories, it makes up for in nicely packaged samples. In addition to full-size product, this shop also includes samples of makeup, brushes, and even concealers. Its curated selections feature many of Sephora's most notable product lines, like La Mer, Matrix, Charlotte Tilbury, and more.
