
Melanie Fiona The Bridge Zip

she has maintained a strong presence in the musical landscape, scoring singles on platinum albums such as 2009's The Bridge (Universal Motown/Interscope) and her Mercury-nominated A Lady Like Me (Universal Motown/Interscope) in 2010. She then set forth her own record label, Decadent (Universal Motown) in 2011. Who Knew was re-released on the label and shot to no. 8 on the Billboard R&B/Hip-Hop chart and no. 9 on Billboard's Dance/Club chart, featuring a solo chorus of "Nightmares" and an appearance of the "It Kills Me" remix by British EDM icons Nightmares. Later that year, the album was packaged with the "Say Goodbye" video as a two-disc set. Also in 2012, she hit the studio with producers Keith Sweat and The-Dream for their acclaimed project, The Fantasy. The group released as a single, Pink Friday, and was nominated for a 2013 Grammy Award. The following year, The Bridge was once again reissued with two new songs, The Ride and Midnight. Midnight, the original version, The Bridge went quadruple platinum in the United States. Released in February 2014, the full-length album again captured Fiona and team's musical prowess. Singles on the album, Offender and the melancholy, country-tinged, The Rabbit Song, were both nationally acclaimed. She followed up with the acclaimed album, A Lady Like Me and in 2015, was named among Vibe magazine's Best R&B/Soul Artist of the Decade. As an independent artist, the powerhouse has earned a variety of awards, including the Top Rap Artist Award at the 2014 World Music Awards, Top R&B/Hip-Hop Artist at the 2015 BET Awards and Top R&B/Soul Artist at the 2016 BET Awards. She has earned radio airplay at pop and urban stations across the globe with hits such as The Bridge and Pink Friday and was featured on the soundtracks of several film scores, including Lost in Translation and The Haunting of Hill House. In 2017, she released the self-titled, Melanie Fiona, and again in 2018, with the hit single, Better in Bed.
