Similar software nokatmo is a chat program using ActiveX controls. If you have a mobile phone with a bluetooth-capable, nokatmo can send and receive messages from your phone. It also has some functionality to send and receive mails. Nokatmo will be integrated into the official Jooby Chat SoftwareTo my knowledge, all of these are available in the United States at least on vinyl (with the possible exception of Pastiche, which is not listed as a vinyl on Discogs). Some of these are, unfortunately, region coded but can be played on the internet and easily converted to international listeners. Obama on Facebook. (Valerie Macon/The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle via AP) A West Point graduate has been discharged from the Army after reportedly making a threat against President Barack Obama on Facebook. Aaron Ybarra, a pilot in the Army's reconnaissance helicopter program, was discharged Friday after an incident in which he allegedly posted a message on the social media site, sources familiar with the case told The Associated Press. According to the sources, Ybarra wrote that he hoped someone would open fire on the president, and that he thought an assault rifle was the best way to make that happen. The source who spoke to the AP on condition of anonymity because the case is under investigation said the threat came after Obama addressed concerns about the U.S. economy at a campaign rally in
